Two Person Gun Ban “Group” Resorts to Criminal Vandalism to Promote Gun Control

Posted on September 2, 2016 by Ammoland

Virginia – Two women claiming to be a gun-control “group”, B*y R*t, [name hidden to not give them any press] is urging its gun hates to commit vandalism in order to push gun control.

They know their ideas are not popular, so out of desperation they are turning to vandalism to harass gun owners.

One of Virginia Citizens Defense League's members had a Guns Save Lives sticker and a Virginia Citizens Defense League logo sticker on his vehicle, both stickers were covered over with B*y R* anti-gun stickers. In Roanoke, B*y R* members vandalized a wall on some property sporting an NRA sign.

B*y R*'s most used word has four letters and begins with an "F." A real class act.

Am I surprised to see criminal activity from the gun controllers? No, I've seen it before. Most gun-grabbers have serious anger-management issues and a hateful attitude.

I have seen them commit assault and battery twice at the Steppin' Out event in Blacksburg and a third time at the General Assembly during a rally. Virginia Citizens Defense League stickers and magnets have been stolen from vehicles, too. They yell obscenities and make "hand gestures" when Virginia Citizens Defense League has a booth at various events. B*y R* is a marriage made in heaven for most gun controllers.

I would encourage full prosecution of these criminals when they are caught. Here is an article on B*y R*. It looks like the two women that vandalized the wall might well get caught, as someone got their license plate number. Sweet!:

Casey: Roanoke vandalism gets high marks from new anti-gun group

An anonymous group called "The B*y R*," encourages anti-gun pranks and vandalism all over the country. "We are infuriated by slaughter, and by the ignorant, violent, racist, sexist, fear-mongering gun culture [remember they are talking about the majority of law abiding Americans ~ AmmoLand] that enables it, and by the overly polite and deferential failed attempts to quell it. We are here to change that," they told me in an email.
