Jonathan Strickland, a member of the Texas House of Representatives, posted a photo of a holiday card that was sent to his home.

The card boasted a message promoting keeping Christ in Christmas. From the outside, it seemed like your typical run-of-the-mill holiday card.

But, the inside of the card featured two graphic images of a man and woman who had obtained horrific injuries from guns.

The note said:

The NRA gives the gift of nonfatal gunshot wounds like these to 100,000 Americans every year.

Your continued support of “guns everywhere” legislation is directly responsible for this health epidemic.

In your heart, do you honestly believe this is what Jesus wants?

Shame on you for dishonoring Jesus Christ with your support of gun-pushing legislation.

Strickland is the father of two children, and in his Facebook post he thanked God that his kids didn't find the card first.

We just received this unmarked "Christmas Card" to our home address. Thank God my young children did not open it first. What kind of sick liberal would send such a thing? Disgusting.

The Betsy Riot is an anti-gun activist group that utilizes social protests to fight legislation that supports the 2nd Amendment.

Strickland wasn't the first to receive a disturbing holiday card from them. Ron Hicks, Mark Parkinson, and other Missouri lawmakers recently received cards from The Betsy Riot as well.
