Fake blood was thrown on a door outside Sen. Ben Sasse's downtown Lincoln office sometime Tuesday night or Wednesday morning, according to a police report.

The report says a sticker belonging to Betsy Riot, a progressive protest group, was found on the door at 1128 Lincoln Mall along with a handwritten sign taped to the window and fake blood splattered on the windows and doors.

A similar report was taken last week at Sen. Deb Fischer's office at 440 N. Eighth St. in Lincoln.

Police are investigating, and no citations or arrests have been made.
